LAUREN STEPHENSON

Professional Summary

Highly ambitious Collaboration Center Support Specialist working toward a Bachelor's Degree in Computer Science. Academic coursework includes exposure to Java and C++. Extensive leadership & volunteer experience in multiple student and non-profit organizations in diverse roles.

Skills

- Java Experience
- C++ Experience
- Communication

- Community Outreach
- Strategic Planning
- Project Management

Education

Liberal Arts, A.S. and General Sciences, A.S.: Spring 2018
Johnson County Community College - Overland Park, KS

- Transferring to University of Kansas for a B.S in Computer Science in Fall 2018

Work History

Collaboration Center Support Specialist, 08/2017 to Current
Johnson County Community College – Overland Park, KS

- Supported CoLab's mission to create collaborative, experiential learning opportunities for students and faculty
- Managed scheduling of collaboration spaces and coordinated special events
- Instructed faculty and students on new technologies

Collaboration Center Support Assistant, 08/2016 to 08/2017
Johnson County Community College – Overland Park, KS

- Led troubleshooting of technical issues for students, often involving Microsoft Office Suite, Google applications, JCCC's class management software, and various other technologies

Accomplishments

- Co-Founder of KC STEMinists, an organization that teaches girls in the Kansas City area how to code with an emphasis on entrepreneurship and community-driven development
- Computer science education advocate, volunteering with Girls Who Code, KC Women in Tech, Johnson County Community College and KC STEM Alliance
- Founder and President of JCCC Computer Club
- VP of Marketing & Communication for the American Association of University Women chapter at JCCC
- VP of Communication for Phi Theta Kappa chapter at JCCC
- Graduate of the JCCC Cavalier Leadership Development Program with Distinction
- Member of the Honors Program and the Civic Leadership Program at JCCC
- Member of the National Technical Honor Society